

Max Emergency Changes for Resource Limitation Reporting

Problem / Opportunity Statement

Recent concerns with the fuel and non-fuel consumables supply chain, as well as increasing environmental restrictions on generators, has resulted in challenges with managing remaining run hours for generating resources.

This issue was first addressed in the short-term as an emergency change at the January, 2022 MRC when stakeholders approved temporary changes to Manual 13: Emergency Operations which expire on April 1, 2022. This work is intended to address the issue with a long-term fix.
